Comments Regarding Pricing Strategy
Final value brackets smoothly between mid and high sold comps. Property has a garage conversion where some of the GLA is situated. Property is not 1748 and a bonafied two-car garage. For this reason final value is more toward the bottom of the middle of the sold comps. General area and neighborhood typically is superior to surrounding area(s) in that most properties have been upgraded with hardwood flooring, softer interior paint, premium kitchen features as opposed to standard builder features to name a few. I have yet been able to find from a public records or an MLS search a listing describing a property as average condition or average features. To summarize, the condition of the interior of the improvements being valued is the same as the exterior condition of the property unless specified in the report. This being said, upgrades with neighboring properties in average condition are presumed similar to the subject property and viceversa.

Clear Capital Quality Assurance Comments Addendum

Reviewer's Notes The broker's as-is conclusion reflects the market for the subject. Comps are within a reasonable distance, relatively current, and accurately reflect the subject's defining characteristics. Thus, the as-is conclusion appears to be adequately supported.
