| Comments Regarding Pricing Strategy | | |
| The subject property is a single family home, which is in overall average condition on the exterior. The exterior of the subject property does not appear to be in need of major repairs. Comps were searched for within a distance of 1.25 Mile and back 6 months in time. Comps were searched for beyond 1 Mile as there is a lack of Sold Comps which are similar in condition to the subject property, and under 1 mile. Comps were selected from similar and competing areas. It was necessary to search beyond 3 months time for sold comps as there were limited recent similar sales in this area. The GLA Tolerance searched for similar comps was +/- 20% of the subject's Sq. Ft. The subject is in average exterior condition and priority was given to locating comps which are in average condition. However, there is a shortage of similar comps, especially properties in average condition, and therefore it was necessary to use two superior condition comps within this report. Market conditions and home prices are increasing within this area due to continued strong demand and limited inventory of homes for sale. The subject's bedroom count is unique and there are limited comps similar in bedroom count. One listing and one sold comp was provided with the same bedroom counts, and the remaining sold comps were adjusted for this difference. The subject property did not appear to have any major negative site influences. The value variance between comps is larger than typical, but was necessary due to limited similar comps in this area. The subject's price has been bracketed within the range of comp values. Comps within the subject's market area support a price which is slightly higher than the subject's last sales price. The subject has debris in front of the home, which appear to be placed out for bulk trash pickup. | | |
