Comments Regarding Pricing Strategy

Subjects data obtained from prior MLS data sheet dated year 2010 and online county tax records. Copies of the information is included in the docs and data section. Lack of comps with similar style or features resulted in extending sold comp search back 6 months, expanding search and exceeding distance and feature guidelines and the use of comps with superior upgrades. A wide range of prices was unavoidable due to subjects characteristics, market availability and a wide range of competing prices. Strong consideration given to both competing listing and sold comps, subjects location in a market with limited competing listings and low DOM for recent sales. This resulted in placing subjects recommended market price at the higher end of adjusted sold comp prices. A thorough search of the market area indicates that selected comps are most similar to subject of townhomes recently listed and sold in MLS.
