Clear Capital Quality Assurance Comments Addendum

|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Reviewer's Notes | The prior report was understated due to using comps that were all inferior in GLA to the subject, the current report uses comps more similar in GLA to the subject which supports a higher value. The current report also concludes higher than the prior because it considers the subject in good condition and values it as such, per interior photos available on zillow etc show the subject has been updated and is in good condition. |
