Used the only recent sale from within the immediate subdivision and two most recent sales from adjacent comparable subdivision of similar age and style homes on small lot sizes. There are no listings currently in the immediate subdivision or the adjacent competing neighborhood. Used most similar two story listing within one mile and second most similar listing within one mile, which is a single level property. Expanded search radius for a second comparable style listing within the area. The interior of the subject is assumed to be in average condition, although sales price per the tax records is very low compared to recent comparable sold data.
